Flagstaff, AZ 86001

Are you ready to make a difference? Interested in helping to protect Arizona's air, land, water, and wildlife? Concerned about wolves and wilderness? Please join us for this fun (yes fun) and informative workshop. Arizona needs more advocates who are willing to meet with legislators, city council people, county supervisors, and other officials who have enormous impact on our future and on what kind of legacy we leave for the next generation. The workshop runs two hours and covers the basics on Arizona government, how a bill becomes a law, how a bill really becomes a law, and Dos and Don'ts of Citizen Lobbying with your elected officials. We will also have food and drinks as we know this is during dinner time for many. Please let us know if you have specific dietary needs.

You can find out more about it by calling (602) 253-8633 or emailing sandy.bahr@sierraclub.org.

Please do let us know if you are coming, so we can plan to have enough food and information packets. Thank you!
