

Bluebonnet

I chose this name because Bluebonnets are the state flower of Texas. Bluebonnets are also known as the Wolf Flower. Lobos used to live in Texas. But now they are not found in Texas at all. All those wolves moved or got killed.

But unlike wolves bluebonnets are all over Texas. Hopefully one day the wolves will be back here too. So it works out perfectly. And also Bluebonnet is just an adorable name for a pup lobo.

I chose the name Chili because when you think of Mexico or Mexican you instantly think "spicy". When I heard that we could choose a name for a Mexican gray wolf, about 1,000,000 names came to my mind, the one that I chose was one that stuck out from all those other names.

I think that the Wolf pup should be named faith. One reason why I think faith is a good name for a wolf pup is you should always have faith in your self. Wolves need to have faith in there self's, like when there hunting and more. And know this wolf can always have faith in there self. And for these reasons I think Faith is a perfect name for a new Wolf pup.
