

Red Wolf

Wonderfull

Obedient to its calling

Laughing at the moon.

Folding into grey silk.

Sweet as the morning dew

Sakari

Hi, I am Cari and I am 8 years old. I would like to be a wolf biologist when I grow up. I love wolves because they are such majestic creatures that are each unique in their own way. I hope to one day save a wolf. If I could chose the name for a baby red wolf I would chose, Sakari. It is a Native American word in the Inuktitut Tribe for, sweet. I chose this name because I hope this wolf will have happiness and be sweet brightening up life for all the other cubs. I also hop its sweetness will help strengthen the red wolf population. I chose to use a Native American word because I thought the most meaningful word would come from the people that honored wolves and still do. Let's continue to help these wolves the best we can. Protect the red wolves and all wolf kinds.
